Entrance Information:

3680 Walnut Street. Philadelphia. PA. 19104

1. The south entrance through the courtyard off Locust Walk is inclined at the preferred ADA slope. This entrance leads to the main lobby with an elevator located to the right. The House Manager can call an usher to escort a patron using a wheelchair outside to the accessible balcony entrance of the Zellerbach Theater. There is a second ramped path that passes through a table and seating area.
2. The east entrance is located between the Annenberg Center and the Annenberg School off Walnut Street and leads to the lower mezzanine level. There is a bell to call an usher to open the door for wheelchair access. From this entrance the elevator can be used to access all areas of the building except the Zellerbach Theater balcony.
3. An alternate entry from Walnut Street, for times when an usher may not be available at the east entrance, is available by following 37th Street, south to Locust Walk and turning left (east), and proceeding to the courtyard Walk as in entry #1.

Elevator Information:

- There is one elevator located near the south entrance. It accesses all areas of the building except the balcony of the Zellerbach Theater.

Accessible Restrooms:

- Main lobby level - men's and women's
Class of 94 Lobby, SL Level – men's and women's

Building Information:

- The balcony of the Zellerbach Theater is not accessible by the elevator; an usher must unlock the level exterior entrance.
- Once inside there is a platform that can accommodate two or three patrons using wheelchairs. There are no accessible restrooms in this area.
- There are seats at the ends of Row E (E11 thru 24) in the Orchestra Section of the Zellerbach Theater that a person in a wheelchair can transfer into.
- The Studio Theater and the Harold Prince Theater have accessible seating but require an usher to reach.
