

PennAccess: Evans Building

Entrance Information:

4001 Spruce Street. Philadelphia. PA. 19104

1. Entry to the Evans Building, as well as the entire Dental Complex, is located through the 40th Street entrance of the Robert Schattner Center. There is a connecting bridge to the Evans Building on several levels. There is an elevator in the Schattner Center and an elevator in the Evans Building.
- The Spruce St. entrance has a flight of stone stairs and is locked. The 40th Street courtyard entrance is locked.

Elevator Information:

- There is one elevator on the east side of the building just inside the east entrance. The elevator accesses all levels, except the two faculty offices on the west side of the third floor which can be accessed only by a flight of stairs down and the Endodontic Clinic (for information call: 215.898.4927) on the second floor which can be accessed only by a flight of stairs up.

Accessible Restrooms:

- Basement - women's. This room is locked. A key can be obtained from the Facilities Management Office located across the hallway from the restroom or by calling 898-8949.

- First floor - men's
- Second floor - men's and women's

Building Information:

- The basement lecture hall is not wheelchair accessible.
- The Learning Lab and the audio lab in the basement have accessible tables.
- The third floor has classrooms and faculty offices.
- This building predominantly houses dental clinics.
- There is a courtyard on the west side of the building that has a ramp sloping down into it from Spruce St. There is a gate between the street and this courtyard, which is usually locked, but is open for some events that take place in the courtyard.