

PennAccess: Gittis Hall

Entrance Information:

3501 Sansom Street. Philadelphia . PA . 19104

1. The Sansom Street entrance of Golkin Hall is the accessible main entrance to the Penn Law Complex. This entrance is located in the middle of the Sansom block between 34th and 36th Streets. Curb cuts are located on the corners of 34th and Sansom Sts. and 36th and Sansom Sts. This is the only public entrance to the Penn Law Complex. Once inside, go straight-ahead and then to the right to reach the ramp down to Pepper Hall. To find Gittis Hall, travel straight through Pepper Hall, then turn left.
2. There is a basement passage along the north side of Tanenbaum Hall into Gittis Hall that is level. This provides passage to auditoriums 1 and 2 and to the elevator.
4. There are accessible entrances to the courtyard from Tanenbaum Hall.

Elevator Information:

- There is one elevator in Gittis Hall which can be reached by following the hallway along the courtyard. It accesses all floors of both Gittis Hall and Pepper Hall except the portion of the second floor where offices 206-212 are located. From the elevator, the passage to the basement of Tanenbaum Hall can be reached.

Accessible Restrooms:

- First floor - unisex

Building Information:

- The second floor tiered lecture halls 213 and 214 have accessible seating in the middle section. The entrance to this section is level with the elevators.
- The second floor offices 206-212 are two to three steps up from the elevator level.
- Gittis Hall is directly connected to Tanenbaum Hall on the north side of the basement and on the south side of the first floor, by way of Golkin Hall, and to Silverman Hall on the first floor.
