

PennAccess: St. Leonard's Complex

Wheelchair Accessible Entrance
Number corresponds to text above

Barrier

Permit Parking

Elevator

Curb Cut

Public Parking

Entrance Information:

3819 Chestnut Street. Philadelphia. PA. 19104

1. The accessible entrance is on the east side of the building. There is a gentle slope up from the parking lot to the level of the door. Inside, a ramp leads up to the lobby level and the elevators.
2. There is an accessible exit on the north side of the building. This door does not open from the outside, however.
3. There is a ramp on the south side of the building leading down to the University Copy Services/Plus. There is no internal connection between this area and the rest of the building.

- The main entrance, on the west side of the building, has eight steps up to its doors.
- There are several flights of stairs leading to no longer used doors on the Chestnut Street side of the building.

Elevator Information:

- There are two elevators in the building, located up a ramp from Entrance 1 and to the left. The elevators access all of the building, except for one area on the northwest corner of the second and third floors. The third floor section of this area can be reached by a chair lift; the second floor portion is inaccessible.

Accessible Restrooms:

- All restrooms are accessible.

Building Information:

- There are two parking spaces reserved for handicapped guests located in the parking lot to the east of the building.
- Levels 2A and 3A have handicapped accessible drinking fountains.
- Levels 2A and 2B, and 3A and 3B, are separated by four stairs, but elevators access both the A and B levels of each floor.
- There is one suite on the second and third floors, in the northwest corner of the building, that is inaccessible by elevator. The third floor section of this area can be reached by a chair lift; the second floor area is inaccessible.
- This building contains a variety of suites, many related to the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, and is almost completely accessible.
- For more information, call the Building Manager at 215-397-8520.